[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17. The Financial Debate Resumed in the Senate-No Indication of the Close of the Debate.

The financial debate was recommenced in the Senate to-day by Senator Logan, who made a very lengthy reply to the arguments recently advanced by Schurz. The speech presented no new points, being almost altogether a repetition of the position heretofore asserted by Mr. Logan and other senators no positive information of the volcanic holding similar views as to the propriety of an increase in the volume of the currency. free banking.

There is no indication yet as to when this debate on the finances will be over. No one has the floor for to-morrow.

Petitions were presented to-day by Messrs. Logan and Ferry from business men of New York. Said petitions aggregate six hundred signers. The petitioners assert that they are much alarmed at the endeavors of the money lenders to induce Congress to put a stop to the future issue of legal-tenders by the others. The jury was discharged by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The Civil-Rights Bill, it seems, is to be brought before the country again. It has been with the Senate Judiciary Committee for a long time, and is now ready to be reported to the Senate, but will day. It was two hundred yards long at last not be until Mr. Edmunds, who is chairman of the committee, and who is absent on account of sickness, returns to take his part in it has already stopped the running of trains the debate. Mr. Edmunds will support the bill. The indications are that when it is reported it will be the signal for another flood of debate, which will take the time needed for considering matters of importance to the business interests of the country, and that at all events it will not pass in the shape its thority of the Order in the United States. deceased author fought for so persistently.

The House

to-morrow will be in session for debate only, this order having been made so that a great many of the members who have received invitations to attend the launching at Chester, Penn., to-morrow of the largest ship ever built in this country may have a little wholesome recreation and do honor as well to pants under the ice, and all were drowned. WASHINGTON, March 17 .- Senate .- A large number of petitions were presented both for and against an increase in volume of the national currency, and were referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Frelinghuysen said some weeks ago, when the civil-rights bill was under consideration, it was referred to the Judiciary Committee, with the late Mr. Sumner's conment, on condition that it be reported back soon. The bill was now perfected and ready to be reported to the Senate, having received the approval of the majority of the committee, but as the author of the bill had been taken away he (Mr. Frelinghuysen) would not report the bill or call it up until the chairman of the committee, Mr. Edmunds, who favors it, should be present, that he might take part in the debate.

Celebration of St. Patrick's Day. PHILADELPHIA, March 17 .- St. Patrick's

Day was celebrated by the Irish societies of temperance, beneficial, literary, and social, and national organizations. Despite the rainy and disagreeable weather fully 10,000 men paraded with innumerable banners and over thirty bands of music. One of the organizations paraded 1,200 men. There were many interesting features in the line. There were barouches filled with children dressed in white and decked with ribbons; also, similar vehicles with Hebes, who, dressed in spotless white and sashed with green and holding the typical harp or delieate shamrock, represented the Maids of Erin. Then there were others, too lovely to be cold and classic, surrounded by little girls bedecked in colors, who typified the Goddess of Liberty and her nurselings-the States. The procession was a grand success, and had the weather been clear the number would have been doubled. Augusta, Ga., March 17 .- St. Patrick's

Day was celebrated by a parade of military and civic societies. Orations were delivered by Rev. Father Kelly, of Georgetown, D. C., and M. P. Curroll.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 17 .- St. Patrick's day was celebrated here with great eclat. The day opened with a salute of eighteen guns, one for each of the provinces of Ire-land, one for Ireland, and thirteen for the Southern States. The demonstration was imposing and the weather fine. The procession numbered fifteen hundred, comprising eight societies and a military company, three bands, and carriages containing the crator of the day, the Bishop and others.

The oration was delivered at 12 M. at the Theatre by Hon. M. P. O'Conner, of
